

THE COMPASS YEAR

*A 52-Week Guide to Abundance, Alignment &
Self-Led Growth*

Compass Rise Consulting
Donna Lynn Price

Welcome. Welcome!!

You are holding a guide designed to support you — not push you, fix you, or rush you.

This is not a productivity tool or a set of rules to follow. It is an invitation to slow down, listen more closely to yourself, and reconnect with what truly matters as you grow, lead, and create abundance in your life and work.

As you move through these pages, you'll be guided by the Compass — returning again and again: to vision, connection, structure, growth, and self-leadership. There is no finish line here. Only awareness, alignment, and the freedom to choose your direction with intention.

Use this guide in whatever way serves you best. Write in it. Sit quietly with it. Skip around. Come back when you're ready. Trust that each time you return, you'll find exactly what you need. Don't get caught in the guilt trap of — “I missed a couple of days and have to catch up.” You don't have to catch up. Just restart!! Do what you can, when you can.

You already carry wisdom, clarity, and possibility within you. This guide simply helps you remember how to listen for it.

I'm honored to walk alongside you on this journey.

With clarity and care,

Donna

HOW TO USE THIS GUIDE

This guide is designed to support you — not pressure you.

It is not meant to be completed perfectly or rushed through. It is meant to be returned to, revisited, and used as a steady companion throughout the year as you navigate growth, abundance, and alignment.

Think of this guide as a conversation with your inner Compass — one that meets you where you are and gently points you toward what matters most.

THE COMPASS FRAMEWORK

Each month in this guide aligns with one point of the Compass:

North — Vision, direction, and intentional leadership

East — Connection, communication, and being seen with ease

South — Systems, structure, and grounded support

West — Growth, creativity, and expansion

Center — Self-leadership, energy, and inner alignment

As you move through the year, you'll travel around the Compass multiple times. This is intentional. Growth is not linear — clarity deepens through repetition, reflection, and integration.

YOUR WEEKLY RHYTHM

Each week includes three simple elements:

Abundance Prompt

A reflective question designed to help you notice patterns, beliefs, and alignment.

Compass Action

One gentle, practical action that brings awareness into your daily life — without overwhelm.

The Compass Year

Abundance Affirmation

A present-tense statement to reinforce self-trust, worth, and grounded abundance.

You can:

- * Journal in the space provided
 - * Reflect quietly without writing
 - * Return to a prompt multiple times during the week
 - * There is no “right” way to engage. Consistency matters more than perfection.

MONTHLY FLOW

Each month begins with a short introduction to set the tone and intention. The weekly sections that follow are designed to be experienced at your own pace.

Some months include five weeks. Others include four. Use what’s here as a guide, not a rule.

If you miss a week, simply return when you’re ready. The Compass always welcomes you back.

ACKNOWLEDGING AND CELEBRATING ALL THAT YOU HAVE

Spending a few moments in gratitude helps you to move into flow and connection with abundance.

So many of us fail to acknowledge and celebrate what we have, what we have accomplished, and taking a moment in gratitude can help us to shift our energy into flow.

USING THE QUARTERLY REFLECTIONS

At the end of each quarter, you'll find a Quarterly Compass Reflection. These reflection pages are intentionally placed after the final month of each quarter to create a natural pause — a moment to look back before moving forward.

The quarterly reflections help you:

- * Integrate insights from the previous months
- * Notice patterns and growth
- * Acknowledge progress without comparison
- * Reconnect with what matters most
- * You are not meant to rush through these pages.

You may choose to:

- * Complete them all at once
- * Reflect over several days
- * Return to them later if the timing doesn't feel right
- * Integration is part of the work. These pauses are where insight becomes embodied.

A GENTLE REMINDER

This guide is not a checklist.

You do not need to “keep up.”

You do not need to do every prompt.

You do not need to have clarity right away.

What matters is your willingness to listen, reflect, and lead yourself with compassion.

The Compass is not here to tell you what to do — it is here to help you remember what you already know.

RETURNING TO THE COMPASS

You may find that certain months or Compass points resonate more strongly than others. That's normal.

You are encouraged to:

- * Revisit any section as needed
- * Begin again at any point in the year
- * Use this guide alongside coaching, journaling, or quiet reflection

This is a living resource. Let it evolve with you.

Quarterly Reflection

QUARTER 4 — COMPASS REFLECTION

Integration & Renewal

You have completed a full journey around the Compass.

4. What am I complete with or ready to release?

5. How has my definition of success evolved?

As I step into a new cycle, how do I choose to lead myself next?

The Compass is not meant to be followed perfectly — it is meant to be returned to.

The Compass Year

Whenever you feel uncertain, overwhelmed, or ready for more, you already know how to find your way back.

A Closing Note

If you've reached this page, take a moment to pause.

You've traveled a full journey around the Compass — through vision and connection, structure and growth, reflection and renewal. And while this guide may be ending here, your journey is not.

What matters most is not how many pages you completed or how consistently you followed the prompts. What matters is what you noticed. What softened. What shifted. What you chose to honor within yourself.

Abundance is not something you earn by doing more or being different. It is something you experience when you are aligned with who you are and how you choose to lead yourself.

You now have a language for listening inward.

You have practices for returning to center.

And you have a Compass you can trust — one that doesn't demand perfection, only presence.

Carry forward what feels true. Release what no longer fits. And remember that clarity often arrives quietly, through reflection, honesty, and self-trust.

Whenever you feel uncertain, overwhelmed, or ready for more, you know how to find your way back.

An Invitation

You are always welcome to return to this guide.

You might revisit a single week.

You might reflect on a quarter again.

You might begin the journey anew.

There is no right time and no wrong pace.

The Compass Year

Let this guide remain a steady companion — one that reminds you that growth can be spacious, leadership can be humane, and abundance can flow without force.

☀️ Final Inspiration

Trust your direction.
Honor your energy.
Allow support.
Expand with intention.
Return to center often.

The Compass does not lead you away from yourself — it leads you home.

Remember: Business growth is a flow. Strengthen one key, and you strengthen them all.

All the best,

Donna
